The 21st International Conference on Teaching and Learning Chinese in Higher Education
* The 2024 Annual International Conference of the British Chinese Language Teaching Society

4th July-6th July 2024

Organised by the British Chinese Language Teaching Society Hosted and Co-organised by Confucius Institute, Newcastle University & Chinese Studies, School of Modern Languages, Newcastle University, UK

The British Chinese Language Teaching Society (BCLTS) and Confucius Institute at Newcastle University are delighted to announce the 21st International Conference of BCLTS, Critical Perspectives on International Chinese Education: Synergising Language, Culture, and Technology in the Era of Digital Intelligence. This event will take place at Newcastle University on the 4th – 6th of July 2024.

The BCLTS is a UK registered charity for Chinese language teachers and researchers from UK universities and beyond. Newcastle University is a founding member of the prestigious Russell Group and a member of the N8 University Alliance. In the 2024 QS World University Rankings, Newcastle University is ranked 110th, its Translation Studies Programme being one of the top three globally. The university not only excels in various disciplines but also provides a diverse range of academic programmes, committed to creating an international academic environment, offering cutting-edge research and resources, and providing ample opportunities for academic and career development. Established in 2012, the Confucius Institute at Newcastle University is a partnership between Newcastle University and Xiamen University of China. The Institute delivers and promotes Chinese culture, by providing Chinese language education at different levels for local schools and community and fostering exchanges and collaboration between the people of China and the UK. Newcastle upon Tyne, the fifth-largest city in England, is known for its extensive history, vibrant communities, high-quality life, and relatively low cost of living. The city is acclaimed for its outstanding hospitality, and diverse cultural experiences, making it particularly welcoming for international students. With its rich cultural traditions, picturesque river views, and modern shopping and entertainment facilities, Newcastle offers a colourful array of experiences to residents and visitors.

We invite submission of abstracts for conference oral presentation (25 minutes), workshops and/or panel discussions (60-minutes) and posters (see examples here). Submitted abstracts will be peer reviewed and a selection of papers will be published in the Conference Proceedings. The working languages for this conference are English and Chinese.

The theme for this conference is Critical Perspectives on International Chinese Education and we particularly welcome submissions in the following areas:

1. Teaching Chinese in a multilingual, multicultural context
2. Applied linguistics and science of language learning
3. Design and development of teaching and learning materials
4. Technology-enhanced language learning
5. Standards and benchmarks for assessing Chinese learning
6. Second language acquisition
7. Corpus linguistics
8. National language policies
9. Teacher education and development
10. Translation and literature
11. Teaching Chinese for specific purposes
